

Thank God It's Sotherday!!!

Somber Reality: Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, Sunday, Monday
Joe's fun days: Thursday, FRIDAY, Tuesday, Sotherday Saturday, Sunday, Someday

Monday comes but once a week
Too often, I say, for one that reeks
To speak of it sounds like a curse
So sorry it in the workweek it comes first
I will delete this awful day
Listen closely, - I'll show you a way
To make this illusion, this insanity pay
I'll rename and re-order, as necessary, each and every weekday.
To fit my own special brand of reality

To the M-day, we first must deal
I'll add it to the weekend – an act surreal
M-day becomes SomeDay – it's all for the best
No one feels like working anyway – it ought be a day of rest

Friday's also most naturally part of the weekend – it's where it ought to be I'll call SomeOtherDay – SotherDay – my burdens starts to lighten, I see

Wednesday, hump day – hmm .. weekend activity
It's a weekend in itself – I christen it Friday – a day too good to waste
I'd enjoy a well-deserved break and sample, yes, a taste
Of Summer Vacation, maybe I'll get faced.
And convince you'all to take my place.

Tuesday and Thursday will take each other's place
What does this buy me? – listen up, Ace!
When Tuesday rolls around, my mind says Thursday
Just one day short of a 'weekend' ordinarily
By the time my head adjusts to accursed reality
It will be Wednesday.... Or rather, Friday!!!
The weekend's here – I start to celebrate!!!

Thursday... rather Tuesday, rolls around and I'm into next week
I'm so happy, I can't speak. I've missed the M-day oh so completely!
Did I miss the weekend too? Hardly, for this illusion I will not pay
For on the morrow, I'll be able to say, "Thank God it's Sotherday!!!"

If you choose to adopt Joe's weekday plan
You too can toe lines in the sand
You'll be relaxing on the 'beach'
Even as you start to teach!!!
